Dear Dr. Stengenga

It is now some time ago that the "Choral Readers" have come and gone. This was a high light of the year and for the past two years that I have been the pastor here in Miraloma.

We have appreciated their visit. First, Joe Suttle is one of our boys and we do love him. This is a fine way in which we could see the evidence of his work and progress in his preparation for his life's work.

Also, this was a fine experience to have this unusual program. It was most effective in its presentation and its effects upon our people. They still speak warmly of this event. Much credit must be given to Mrs. England for her efforts and her training.

The young folks must not be left unmentioned. I had the privilege of being their chaperon for the day as we went sight-seeing. They were a credit to the college and the church. Not one individual gave any hint of any behaviour in anyway unbecoming. I say they were superb.

The graciousness with which they accepted all the inconveniences proved their metal. They adjusted well.

Thankyou for this privilege of their presence in our midst. We commend the college for this fine witness in our midst.

Sincerely yours

Henry Rozendal

We felt this was a privilege to have you with us.
Please forgive my tardy note and letter - HR.
